

BAHMÜLLER strengthens setup on the North American market

The Corrugated Board Machinery Division of Bahmueller Technologies, Inc. in Charlotte, a subsidiary of Wilhelm Bahmüller Maschinenbau Präzisionswerkzeuge GmbH in Plüderhausen (Germany) is pleased to announce further steps in order to strengthen their organization on the North American market.

Bahmüller Maschinenbau Präzisionswerkzeuge GmbH is a leading international supplier of corrugated box manufacturing machinery and automation systems.

To be well positioned for further growth on the American market and in order to be even closer to our customers and their requirements, we have assigned Benjamin Lauterbach (formerly Holke) as Vice President Corrugated Board Division of Bahmueller Technologies, Inc. in Charlotte.

Benjamin Lauterbach has successfully managed and supported the North American market as Area Sales Manager for several years and is now responsible for further growth as competent and valued expert for our customers in the Corrugated Board Industry.

We wish Benjamin Lauterbach much of success in his new position.
